

DIRECTION TO COUNSEL NOT TO ATTEMPT TO FIND ASSETS

I, _____, hereby acknowledge that I have been told of the methods to encourage the full disclosure of assets that may be held or secreted by my spouse. These methods include “discovery” such as taking depositions, sending interrogatories, and hiring investigators or other professionals. I have been told that, based on the facts known about my case, the LAW OFFICE OF MARSHAL S. WILICK, P.C. has told me that it would be advisable to engage in such discovery. I know and understand that it is possible, or even likely, that there would be no way in the future to recover assets that might remain hidden or unknown at the time of divorce.

I realize that the seeking out and discovery of such assets increase costs, and I have decided that I know enough about what assets exist that I hereby instruct my attorneys, the LAW OFFICE OF MARSHAL S. WILICK, P.C., to not engage in a search for such assets by formal or informal discovery, but instead to rely on the information I give, or is already known and in the file, concerning the assets at issue in my case.

I release Marshal S. Willick from any liability whatsoever stemming from his failure to obtain information that he might otherwise gain by means of discovery.
