

Valdez v. Aguilar 132 Nev. __, P.3d __ (Adv. Opn. No. 37, May 26, 2016)

#

Lower court relieved an obligor parent of her responsibility to pay child support retroactively. Supreme Court reversed.

NRS 425.360 is irrelevant to the enforcement of a child support obligation between parents where no debt to any welfare agency has been created. Thus, it does not apply to the suspension of child support payments owed by one parent to another.
